Helpful Wellness Hints: The Importance of Water

(Source www.freedrinkingwater.com)

Water is the most essential element to our survival, next to air. In fact, all the cell and organ functions depend on water for their functioning. Water helps in the daily maintenance of our bodies, and plays a key role in the prevention of disease. Drinking eight glasses of water daily can decrease the risk of colon and bladder cancer by up to 45%.

Water makes up more than two thirds of the human body. The human brain is made up of 95% water, blood is 82% and lungs 90%. A 2% drop in our body's water supply can trigger signs of dehydration: fuzzy short-term memory, trouble with basic math, and difficulty focusing on smaller print, and daytime fatigue. An estimated seventy-five percent of Americans have mild, chronic dehydration. Water is especially important after bodywork is done. Water flushes your system so your body can get rid of toxins released thorough bodywork. It's never too late to add more water to your life so drink up.
